

BALLERS CHAMPAGNE LAUNCHES NEW ONLINE STORE

Brut and Rosé are now available online through a Bottle Nexus-powered experience.

LOS ANGELES, California - September 10, 2026 - Ballers Champagne is pleased to announce the official launch of its new online store, powered by Bottle Nexus, a direct-to-consumer technology and fulfillment solution created for wine, spirits and beverage-alcohol brands.

Customers can now purchase the brand's signature Brut and Rosé through ballerschampagneus.com. The integrated experience gives visitors a convenient way to discover the collection, place an order and bring Ballers Champagne into their most memorable celebrations.

THE COLLECTION

Ballers Brut - A refined expression created for meaningful celebrations and extraordinary achievements.

Ballers Rosé - An elegant, vibrant expression that brings distinctive color and character to every occasion.

Bottle Nexus provides the technology supporting the purchasing experience while connecting orders with licensed retailers in its network. The platform incorporates age verification and compliance-focused processes designed for the regulated beverage-alcohol industry. Orders are routed according to product availability, customer location and applicable regulations.

The launch marks an important new chapter in the continued growth of Ballers Champagne. As the brand expands through tastings, special events and premium lifestyle experiences, the online store provides a direct destination for customers to learn about the collection and purchase their preferred expression.

Whether recognizing a professional accomplishment, celebrating a personal milestone, selecting a thoughtful gift or elevating an intimate gathering, customers can now begin their Ballers experience online.

Visit ballerschampagneus.com to explore the collection and access the new online store. Product availability, purchasing eligibility and shipping options may vary by location.
